

STUDENT SUPPORT SERVICES

Accommodation in Perth

Perth has a wide variety of student accommodation to suit different budgets and needs. Students can choose to live with an Australian family or in shared rental accommodation with other students or friends.

AACDS provides help to students in finding accommodation, understanding leases and tenancy agreements. Temporary accommodation can be arranged prior to the student's arrival, giving the student time to investigate the various styles of accommodation available.

Finding the right place to live involves consulting AACDS, gaining advice from friends, and checking local newspapers advertisements.

Accommodation choices include:

Homestays: Students live with an Australian family gaining valuable English language conversation skills and experiencing the unique and friendly Western Australian culture and lifestyle.

Rental houses and rooms: Students seeking independence may prefer rental accommodation and can choose to share with friends or other students to share living expenses.

Other: Hostels, Guesthouses and Hotels offer alternative accommodation for students.

Cost of Living in Perth

Australia has the position of having one of the world's highest living standards at a fraction of the cost. Institutions in Perth have calculated the living costs in Perth as being around AUD $250 - $280 per week which is well below the Eastern States (Brisbane, Sydney, and Melbourne).

Flexible Pathways

The Australian Qualifications Framework (AQF) is a national system of learning pathways linking universities, vocational education and training. The AQF structure allows students to move easily from one level of study to the next and from one institution to another subject to visa restrictions. For example AACDS pathways can be linked in the following way if the student chooses; Diploma of Beauty Therapy/Nursing to Advanced Diploma of Dermal Science to Bachelor of Health Science. Further study and/or career option advice is available from Student Support Officers at AACDS.

Counselling Support

If a student experiences difficulty completing studies due to personal issues, the Student Support Officer will provide whatever assistance is appropriate reasonable and equitable. This service is at no charge to the student.

Internal and external counselling services are available to students so they may receive advice in the following areas:

- personal, emotional and cultural issues.
- study skills
- education information
- applications for further study
- information on student visas, student health cover and international students obligations with regard to DEST and DIMA
- issues relating to accommodation options, such as homestay

AACDS Student Support Officer is responsible for all support services including counselling to overseas students.

Study Skills

If a student is having difficulty with study skills (either identified by self or lecturer), private one-on-one tutoring with the Student Support Officer and/or the relevant lecturer is available. A student must approach the Student Support Officer to arrange a suitable time for the tutorial session. This service is at no charge to the student.

If a learning difficulty becomes apparent and further in-depth assistance is required, the student may be referred to a specialist tutor. This service is not within the scope of AACDS and may incur a fee from the provider.
